On the night of September 24, the students assembled in the chapel for the purpose of organizing literary societies.

Mr. Smiley Herren was elected temporary chairman. It was decided that two societies be organized, and the chairman selected Mr. Tyner and Miss Redd to choose members for one society, and Mr. Leonard Logan and Miss Cannon for the other.

The members having been chosen the two bodies repaired to separate halls and began the organization of two literary societies.

The next Friday night these societies met to perfect their organization. They, met however, in joint session in the first part of the evening to transact business common to both societies, Mr. Herren being elected chairman and Mr. Watie Foreman secretary, permanently.

It was decided upon by the two societies which nights each should render its program.

They then assembled to their separate halls and completed their organization.

The name "Senate" was determined upon as the name of one society. The other name not being selected.

A very interesting program was rendered by the "Senate" last Friday night, October 15. Next Friday the other society will render an interesting program. One feature of it will be a debate, which will determine who should have the honor of discovering the North Pole—Cook or Peary.

The boys of the Northeastern Normal on Sunday, September 26, met in the auditorium of the Normal building to form a Y. M. C. A.

Twenty-five names were entered upon the roll as charter members.

The organization is to be taken well in hand by the Normal boys, and they appreciate the help of the young men from our city.

This organization just four weeks old is strong compared with beginning of organizations of its kind in other institutions similar to ours.

We are proud to say that we have boys who will take an active hand in this kind of movement, and the Northeastern Normal ought to be congratulated.

Mr. Corbet, state students secretary of the Y. M. C. A., visited the Normal in the interest of the work, and while here made arrangements for this organization to be affiliated with the state's organization, and to be represented at the state meeting of Y. M. C. A. workers.
