The Glee Club of the N. E. is fully organized now and doing good work. Under the music director they are preparing special choruses for Statehood Day, and work has been begun on "Esther," a cantata to be given under the auspices of the Glee Club in the near future.

When our N. E. football boys left for Ada, they carried with them the forceful, stirring addresses made to them by our beloved President and Professor, Cain and Clark, and as the knights of old, were the colors of their lady love, so each boy wore to the victory his N. E. badge, presented by the lady members of the faculty.

We are glad to say that the Kendall College team played us clean football, and acted gentlemanly while here as our guests. We hope to make as good impression upon our hosts when away on similar occasions.

Expectation runs riot at the N. E. now. The male octette is preparing startling news concerning "Humpty Dumpty," who said "Mammy's Little Lamb."

The Northeastern desires in behalf of the Normal to thank the business men of Tahlequah for their generous support of the athletic department.

The first issue of the Northeastern has been delayed for various reasons. In the future the public may expect it to appear promptly.

The Northeastern asks to exchange with all other publications of its kind. We want to keep in touch with sister publications.

"Hey, diddle, diddle; the cat and the fiddle!" Hurrah for the girl's sextette!
