FACULTY FOR SUMMER TERM.

The faculty for the summer term at the Northeastern State Normal is one of the strongest that has ever been assembled at an Oklahoma college. Each faculty member is a specialist in his or her field. They are graduates of the leading universities and colleges, and are men and women of most excellent experience. These, added to a regular faculty and a strong corps of special lecturers, give full assurance to those that are fortunate enough to attend the Northeastern this summer that they will have the best that can be had. Other members of the summer faculty and other lecturers are to be added later.

Full CREDIT GIVEN AT NORTH-ESTERN COLLEGE FOR SUMMER TERMS WORK.

We feel that last summer's term at Northeastern, with its pleasant arrangement of program for work and recreation, sent every teacher away a booster for the school. With an enlargement of last year's plans, better equipment, and a broader opportunity for pleasure and recreation, in addition to the usual work, this summer at Northeastern promises to be one of the greatest in the history of the institution.

It does not matter what other schools may do, Northeastern will carry out her program as planned. Giving full credit for the summer term's work.

We have anticipated any contingency that might arise and have banded our funds to the end that we are prepared to meet the unexpected emergency which is confronting the Normal Schools in Oklahoma, due to the failure of the legislature to provide funds.

Full CREDIT GIVEN AT NORTH-ESTERN COLLEGE FOR SUMMER TERMS' WORK.

We feel that last summer's term at Northeastern, with its pleasant arrangement of program for work and recreation, sent every teacher away a booster for the school. With an enlargement of last year's plans, better equipment, and a broader opportunity for pleasure and recreation, in addition to the usual work, this summer at Northeastern promises to be one of the greatest in the history of the institution.

Full CREDIT GIVEN AT NORTH-ESTERN COLLEGE FOR SUMMER TERMS WORK.

We feel that last summer's term at Northeastern, with its pleasant arrangement of program for work and recreation, sent every teacher away a booster for the school. With an enlargement of last year's plans, better equipment, and a broader opportunity for pleasure and recreation, in addition to the usual work, this summer at Northeastern promises to be one of the greatest in the history of the institution.

It does not matter what other schools may do, Northeastern will carry out her program as planned. Giving full credit for the summer term's work.

We have anticipated any contingency that might arise and have banded our funds to the end that we are prepared to meet the unexpected emergency which is confronting the Normal Schools in Oklahoma, due to the failure of the legislature to provide funds.

Save this copy of Northeastern and bring it with you to assist in enrolling.

SPECIAL RURAL TEACHERS COURSE.

One of the greatest opportunities to be offered to the summer students will be the course especially prepared for those who wish to teach in the rural districts. This is a departure from the Old Normal School work in behalf of "the children of rural life" and a typical rural school. In the past the Normal School course has been planned, administered, and conducted with an eye to the needs of the city schools, leaving the teachers of the rural schools to a great extent on their own. This summer a new principle will be carried into effect. We have decided to give full credit for those examinations that teachers of the rural schools carry out in the consolidation districts or in the one-room school, must be handled in a different way from that of the city and must be made to meet the needs of the country people. Where the problem of rural education is a solved great advance will be made in solving the problem of the boys and girls in the farms. Henceforth, Northeastern will have courses designed to prepare teachers for both the city and rural districts.

We are asking the county superintendents to cooperate with us in this. The courses to be offered this summer will be based upon the data collected from the county superintendents of the state and will include rural methods, community organization, recreation and amusement for a rural community, a survey of the schools, the rural school as a center for community activities, rural agriculture, community music, and the training of teachers in collecting data and making reports to the superintendent. This work will be carried on under the various departments and will be given full credit.

OKLAHOMA HISTORY, FIRST HAND.

The class in Oklahoma History will have one of the best opportunities that a class has ever had to study Oklahoma History at first hand. For a volume of Oklahoma's history, Dr. A. L. Bixler published a collection of original documents. The project will be made possible by the cooperation of the Carnegie Library, the State Library, the State Historical Society, the University of Oklahoma, the Oklahoma Historical Society, and the Oklahoma Historical Society's publications.

A trip will be planned to Ft. Gibson, which is the center of much of the early history of Oklahoma. Ft. Gibson is famed for the many notable characters that have lived there, as well as for its abundance of riches. Travelers are welcome there.

The class in Oklahoma History will have one of the best opportunities that a class has ever had to study Oklahoma History at first hand. For a volume of Oklahoma's history, Dr. A. L. Bixler published a collection of original documents. The project will be made possible by the cooperation of the Carnegie Library, the State Library, the State Historical Society, the University of Oklahoma, the Oklahoma Historical Society, and the Oklahoma Historical Society's publications.

A trip will be planned to Ft. Gibson, which is the center of much of the early history of Oklahoma. Ft. Gibson is famed for the many notable characters that have lived there, as well as for its abundance of riches. Travelers are welcome there.

The class in Oklahoma History will have one of the best opportunities that a class has ever had to study Oklahoma History at first hand. For a volume of Oklahoma's history, Dr. A. L. Bixler published a collection of original documents. The project will be made possible by the cooperation of the Carnegie Library, the State Library, the State Historical Society, the University of Oklahoma, the Oklahoma Historical Society, and the Oklahoma Historical Society's publications.

A trip will be planned to Ft. Gibson, which is the center of much of the early history of Oklahoma. Ft. Gibson is famed for the many notable characters that have lived there, as well as for its abundance of riches. Travelers are welcome there.